Solstice PVC Decking is up to 20% stronger than the competition. Korelite™ Technology is the reason.

Solstice decking is lighter—yet more solid underfoot.

The interior of Solstice Cellular PVC Decking features our Korelite technology. The exclusive extrusion process creates a dense cell structure that minimizes imperfections, voids and water absorption while offering superior strength.

Korelite technology provides nearly 20% stronger Modulus of Elasticity (MOE) than the competition for greater strength and durability making it solid under foot, with minimal give or deflection.

Korelite makes for a denser, tougher plank that rejects mold, mildew and the effects of freeze-thaw cycles.

Solstice decking contains no wood or wood fillers. Our unique, dense cell structure keeps moisture out—reducing the opportunity for any degradation from mold and mildew or freezing and thawing.

SunShield protection gives Solstice superior color retention while reducing heat build-up.

SunShield is the low-maintenance choice for busy homeowners and the industry leader in color retention. Designed to withstand the harsh effects of any climate, SunShield decks will retain their color and are easy to clean with common household cleansers. Resistant to rot and insect damage, products made with SunShield never require refinishing.

SunShield's outer shell also protects against heat absorption, which means that our planks maintain a comfortable temperature for barefoot enjoyment.

Coordinate your outdoor living space with Solstice.

Solstice Cellular PVC Decking comes in eight distinct colors. Each one has a low-gloss woodgrain-embossed surface, providing a water-resistant, non-skid surface.

Solstice decking is available in a standard screw-down plank or a hidden fastener plank that can be used with most hidden fastener systems—providing uniform plank spacing and a very clean, safe, barefoot-friendly surface.

For additional design options, our hidden fastener planks are available with dual-color and dual-embossing. That means, for example, a plank will have Ironwood on one side, and Mahogany on the other. See the color chart below for color pairings.

Our EarthTone Collection features Cobblestone, Brookstone, Sandstone and Clay. The Hardwood Collection has rich, variegated colors - Ironwood, Mahogany, Walnut and Ipe - with a deep woodgrain texture you can see and touch.
